This article aims to unpack the significance of DBQs in studying the Cold War, illustrating how primary sources deepen our comprehension of this tense and transformative period.

What Are Document Based Questions (DBQs)?

Before exploring their role in Cold War studies, it's important to clarify what DBQs are. A Document Based Question is an assessment format that requires examinees to analyze a series of primary and secondary sources—such as speeches, diplomatic cables, newspaper articles, photographs, and official documents—and construct a coherent essay that responds to a specific historical question.
